We let you look at total population in two ways.

Firstly, population density: which areas had the most people? Density is calculated as the number of people per hectare, and we have measured areas from a modern digital map of the local authorities rather than relying on the doubtful acreages given in historical reports. Secondly, growth rates: where was population rising fastest, or declining? We also look at the ratio of men to women.

This theme also covers people's ages. From 1851 onwards, the census has provided very detailed statistics of age structure, giving numbers of males and of females in each 5-year age band. However, we simplify this here to three broad age groups: Children (0-14), Working Age (15-64) and the Elderly (over 65).

Over the last 150 years, Our population has clearly aged. However, mortality decline in the late 19th century was mainly due to the reduction of very high infant mortality rates: the presence or absence of large number of infants dying before their first birthday had little effect on overall age structures. During the twentieth century, declining fertility and improved life expectancy in later life significantly changed age structures.

We only present the rate of population growth where we can be sure that changes do not result simply from boundary changes.

In the early 19th century, the most obvious areas of rapid growth were in the industrial districts of Lancashire, where cotton textiles had grown rapidly during the 18th century, and of South Wales. However, other areas also grew rapidly: during the 1810s and 1820s. The fens of northern East Anglia expanded as drainage schemes turned marshes into fertile farmland, while seaside resorts on the south coast developed well before the coming of railways.

By the mid-19th century, the north-east of England was growing fast. Its expansion was driven by mining and new heavy industries. In the second half of the 19th century, the old shipyards building wooden sailing ships on the Thames and the Medway were almost completely replaced by new yards on the Tyne and the Wear building iron ships with steam engines. The very heart of London was starting to lose population, and this trend was clearer by the 1900s. The mining areas of South Wales and the East Midlands also boomed. In the North East and the East Midlands, better mining techniques helped the coalfields move east, where the coal was deeper.

These patterns changed completely in the 1930s, rapid growth becoming focused almost entirely around London. This continued into the boom years of the 1950s and 1960s, but the area of low growth at the heart of the south-east becomes more and more visible. By the 1970s, the region of high growth extended beyond the south-east into both the south west and all of East Anglia. Central Wales and the Scottish Highlands benefited from in-migration which was as much about life-style choices as economics forces, as economic activity became steadily less tied to natural resources. Life-style choices plus the boom in financial services also explain the new growth in inner London, which began in the 1980s and blossomed, especially along the Thames, in the 1990s. The decline of the old industrial areas continued.

Letter from John Thraikill, Warrenburg, Missouri

Miss Fannie Thraikill
3032 Colfax Avenue, South
Minneapolis, Minn.

Dear Miss Thraikill:

In answer to your letter of 4/29/27, I came from the North Carolina branch of the Thraikill Family. As my father was the youngest of 15 children and the older ones were all married and moved away before I was old enough to know anything about them. My grandfather Thraikill's name was James. My father's name was George. I only knew three of his brothers--Joseph, James and Andrew. My father and these three brothers all lived in Holt County, MO. in 1860,61,62,63. As our folks were southern sympathizers, we had to get out of MO. We moved to Iowa and Nebraska. Father and Uncle Jim came back to MO. after the war. I was born August 19, 1856. I was too young to know much about the war. The John Thraikill you spoke of was in the southern army, as was his brother William and brother Joseph and David were taken to by their oldest sister when very young and they were in the Union Army. Mrs. M. A. Buis, whose mother was my mothers sister, can give you far far more information than anyone I know of as she is older than I am and has kept somewhat a history of the Thraikill family. And I am satisfied she will take pleasure in giving you all the information she can. Her address is 3334 Olive St., Kansas City, Mo. She is a fine woman, more like a sister to me than a cousin. You may write that I gave you her address. I am satisfied that you and I are related as I never saw anyone who spelled our name as we do but what were relatives of ours. However, I do not know anything about the Virginia branch of our family aside from the fact one of our forefathers lived in Virginia, one in Kentucky and one in North Carolina. With kind personal regard and best wishes.

I am yours sincerely,
John Thraikill

There was a William R. Thrailkill, PVT K CO. 1st Inf from TN (Union?) Army records say this William R. Thrailkill deserted and killed himself and that he was 24 years old when he entered the service. Can't reconcile the age difference. Record indicates he was (or at least joined the Union Army) from Clinton, Anderson Co., TN which is over 150 miles from (above Knoxville) the area of residence of William Randolph Thrailkill. Do not think they are the same person.

Notes for AMASA ADELBERT PACKARD:
Fred,

You have listed on your "Ancestry Tree", Amasa Packard - showing him married to Effie Shirley and to Zera Shirley. In the eyes of the law he was not married to Zera. This was a "sealed marriage" after her death through the Mormon church- which is not a recognized true marriage. I suggest you either make that statement or delete her from your tree.

Notes for ADDIE VIRGINIA SMITH:

Notes for ADDA VIRGINIA SMITH:

When Ada (also known as Addie) was a young girl, about 15, she was cranking up a bucket of water at the well and the crank slipped out of her hand and spun. The crank hit her in the cranium and fractured her skull to the extent that she had to have a silver plate over the fracture to relieve the pressure on her brain. She had the plate until her early death and it is said by my Grandfather, Drewry R. Thraikill, her son, that it caused her to be a bit deranged in the latter part of her life and that it contributed to her demise in 1914. He also said that a contributing factor to her untimely death was the financial worries that she had after Henry died. That he, Drewry, had to go to work in the local bag printing company when he was 12 in order for their little family to survive (becoming a pressman, the trade he followed the rest of his life). When she married Doctor Mitchel, and when the Doctor later became successful, the money he would bring home and "drop in her lap" so mentally affected her that she became deranged and died as a result. Another account, furnished by her daughter, Cary Lee, was that she was afflicted with a brain tumor or cancer and had several brain operations and during the last operation she died. She was 47 at the time of her death.

She promised her sister, Sarah Texas Smith, who was dying, to marry her husband and to care for the two young neices. This she did in 1886, about a year after Sarah died.

Wesley Hardy Thrailkill, his wife Naomi and Daughter are buried in McFarland Cemetery.

McFarland Cemetery-Walker County Georgia

The McFarland Cemetery is located about five miles south of Chattanooga, TN on the McFarland Road. The McFarland Rd. leaves from Rossville GA., and the cemetery is about 1 1/2 miles south of Rossville. The land for the cemetery was given by John Buie McFarland and he has the oldest marked grave. There are about 200 graves that are not marked.

Fred Bidy and his wife, Doris Thrailkill visited this graveyard and found these graves 10/29/2004. We were accompanied by Doris,s sister, Barbara Thrailkill and her husband Edie Elliott. The markings were very clear on these graves, although this cemetery had not been used since the 1920'S. Almost all the grave stones were not readable. We felt very lucky.

Notes for WYATT T. WINKLER:
 WINKLER, ALPHEUS H.

Among the most progressive and enterprising business men of Mills county none stand higher in public esteem than Alpheus H. Winkler of Glenwood. He was born in Holt county, Missouri, December 8, 1855, and is of English and German descent. According to tradition his great-great-grandfather was reared by King William III, of England, being educated by that monarch for the ministry. His father, Wyatt T. Winkler, was a native of Fayette county, Pennsylvania and a son of William and Margaret Winkler. The grandfather was born in Germany and when a young man came to the United States, locating on a farm in Pennsylvania, where he spent the remainder of his life, dying there at the age of eighty-four years. He was a highly educated man, and prior to his emigration to the new world, took part in the German wars. In early days he was noted as a log-roller, being a man of great strength, and at the age of eighty-two could throw the best wrestler in his county, that being quite a pastime in those days. He devoted his life to farming and was also a tax collector.

About 1849 when a single man, Wyatt T. Winkler, the father of our subject, left Pennsylvania and removed to Glasgow, Missouri, where he operated a ferry and also conducted a general store until 1861, when he removed to Holt county, Missouri, and thence to eastern Kansas. There he also engaged in merchandising and farming, and continued to make his home in that state until called from this life June 18, 1885, at the age of fifty-eight years. He was one of the old free-state Democrats, and was a man highly respected by all who knew him. He wedded Miss Mary J. Thraikill, a native of Missouri, who is now living on a farm in Oklahoma. By this union were born ten children, all of whom are still living. Mrs. Winkler's grandparents were William and Polly (Ish) Thraikill. William Thraikill was born in Tennessee and died in California, and his wife was born in Scotland and died in Missouri. Reared on his father's farm and in the village where his father was engaged in business, Alpheus H. Winkler was principally educated in the district schools, but he attended high school for a time, and in 1882 was graduated at Bryant's Commercial College, of St. Joseph, Missouri. He was married on the 22nd of October, 1885, to Miss Margaret Culwell, a native of Nemaha county, Nebraska, and they have become the parents of three children: Ada M., Albert H. and Ethel May, all born in Hiawatha, Kansas.

Henry Culwell, the father of Mrs. Winkler, was born in Tennessee, of which state his parents, Samuel H. and Margaret (Mayberry) Culwell, were also natives, while the latter was a daughter of James Mayberry. Samuel H. Culwell died in Nebraska at the age of sixty-eight years, and his wife passed away in the same state at the age of sixty-nine. The Culwells followed agricultural pursuits principally and were also businessmen. In 1855, in company with his parents and the four other children of the family, Henry Culwell removed to Illinois, and in the spring of 1857 went to Nemaha county, Nebraska, where he made his home until coming to Glenwood, Iowa, in May, 1900. In connection with our subject he is now running the electric light plant at this place. On the 20th of December, 1864, he was united in marriage with Miss Catherine Mayes, and to them were born four children, one of whom is now deceased. Mrs. Culwell was one of a family of fourteen children, whose parents were Joel and Martha Mayes, natives of Missouri and Tennessee, respectively. The former died in Nemaha county, Nebraska, at the age of forty-nine, the latter in Jackson county, Missouri, at the age of seventy-one years.

After his marriage Mr. Winkler made his home in Hiawatha, Kansas, until 1895, when he came to Glenwood, Mills county, Iowa, where he has been a reputable business man of high standing ever since. He has large farming interests both here and in Nebraska, and also owns several hundred acres of valuable coal and iron lands in Tennessee. He is quite extensively engaged in the real estate and loan business, and also conducts the electric light plant at Glenwood, which he purchased in 1899. By putting in new machinery he now has one of the most modern plants in this part of the country. He is recognized as one of the leading and successful real estate men in southwestern Iowa. Since casting his first presidential vote for Grover Cleveland Mr. Winkler has been an ardent Democrat, and fraternally is identified with the Knights of Pythias and the Modern Woodmen of America. He and his family attend the Methodist Episcopal church, and they are recognized as valuable and prominent additions to the commercial and social circles of their adopted home. Thoroughly up-to-date and progressive Mr. Winkler is a man of excellent business and executive ability, whose sound judgment, unflagging enterprise and capable management have brought to him well-merited success. In manner he is pleasant and cordial, which, combined with his sterling worth, makes him one of the popular citizens of the community

Notes for JAMES GLASGOW THRAILKILL, CAPT.:

From "History of Missouri, Andrew and DeKalb Counties" Published 1888

James Glasgow Thrailkill, a substantial farmer of Lincoln Township, was born near Weldon, NC, Feb 22, 1837. His parents were John Thrailkill and Emily Moore. They were of somewhat mixed decent, but their paternal grandfathers were natives of Russia and Scotland, respectively. The father was a native of North Carolina, born September 9, 1806. The mother was born in Nashville, TN, on March 3, 1816. The former, when a child , with his parents , were removed to Kentucky, and thence to Davidson Co., TN., where his father at one time owned the "Hermitage".

About 1833 he came to Missouri, and the following year was married. In 1849 he settled where our subject now lives , and where he died on August 24, 1854. His wife is still living, in her seventy-second year. James received a common school education. At the age of 16 he lost his father, and the care of the family fell chiefly upon him.

In the fall of 1861 he enlisted in the State Militia (Confederate) under General Sterling Price, with whom he served 3 months. The next year he entered the regular army, and for 18 months he did gallant service, participating in the battles of Blue Mills, Lexington, Pea Ridge, and lesser engagements. He received 2 shots in the left arm at Blue Mills, and a saber cut in the left knee at Pea Ridge. On the retreat from the latter, 35 pieces of artillery were placed in his charge along with 60 men. He safely conducted them to a point between Huntsville and Van Buren, Arkansas, where they were again received by the army.

Having been discharged on account of ill health, he returned to the West, and until 1867 he was engaged in various occupations, chiefly freighting across the plains.

In the fall of 1867 he returned to Missouri, and on Dec. 15th, he married Miss Ann Huit. After one year spent at home on the farm he removed to Holt County, where he resided until 1880. He then returned to Andrew CO., and bought the old homestead. He is the father of 4 sons and 3 daughters. Two sons and a daughter are dead. Both he and his wife are worthy members of the Missionary Baptist Church.

Notes for LEVI R. TETHEROW:

Notes for LEVI TETHEROW:

Levi and Amanda were cousins.

Taken from the "Tetherow Book" found in the Joseph Smith Memorial Family History Library in Salt Lake City, Utah:

The 1860 census of DeKalb County shows Levi as a farm laborer at the age of 22 living with his parents in Stewartsville. No record of Levi's marriage has been located. Either late in 1863 or early 1864, he married his cousin Amanda Katherine Thrailkill.

By 1870, Levi and Amanda were farming north of Savannah, Missouri with their two oldest sons. Stories are that Amanda was an accomplished rider and owned a beautiful black horse which she loved to show with her trick riding. Sometime prior to 1879 they had moved to Rochester, Missouri where their next two sons were born. By late 1863, they were living in St. Joseph, Missouri. Levi operated a wood yard and hauling business. He was killed in a tragic accident on September 12, 1884 at the railroad crossing of 14th Street and Mitchell Avenue.

Notes for JOHN M. THRAILKILL:
Biographical Sketch of John M. Thraikill, Johnson County, Missouri,
Warrensburg Township

>From "History of Johnson County, Missouri," by Ewing Cockrell, Historical Publishing Company, Topeka, Cleveland, 1918.

John M. Thraikill, "The One Price Clothier," of Warrensburg, Missouri, was born in 1856 in Holt county, Missouri. He is the oldest of four children born to his parents, George W. and Elizabeth H. (Robinson) Thraikill, the former, a native of Saline county, Missouri and the latter, of Kentucky. They were the parents of the following children: John M., the subject of this review; Edward, who died in December, 1915; Emma, the widow of James E. Rothford, of Greenfield, Missouri; and Joseph, who died in March, 1904. George W. Thraikill was a son of James Thraikill, a native of North Carolina, who came to Missouri when it was yet a territory. His death occurred in Saline county. His son, George W., was reared in Saline county and in later years resided in Holt county, Johnson county, Kansas and Jackson county, Missouri. He spent his life engaged in the pursuits of agriculture and his death occurred in 1897 at Kansas City, Missouri. In 1904, he was joined in death by his wife, whose death also occurred in Kansas City. In the public schools of Clay county, Missouri, John M. Thraikill received his education. When only a lad of fifteen years of age, he began life for himself, his mercantile career beginning in December, 1878, when he accepted a position with the business establishment of Bullene Emery & Moore. He was later employed by the different firms, Burnham Hanna & Munger and Ely Walker & Company. For ten years, he was on the road as traveling salesman for these business firms. In September, 1889, Mr. Thraikill resigned his position as traveling salesman and purchased one-half interest in the mercantile establishment of J. J. Abell & Brother, buying the brother's interest. This store was located at Nevada, Missouri. John M. Thraikill was in business there two years and then went on the road again in the employ of Ely Walker & Company, for which firm he was salesman for one and a half years. January 1, 1894, he opened a clothing store at Lamar, which he successfully conducted for several years. He sold the store at Lamar in 1900 and left there in November of that year. February 23, 1901, John M. Thraikill opened his present clothing store in Warrensburg, Missouri, his place of business being located at 109 and 111 North Holden street. He handles an excellent and complete line of men's and boys' wearing apparel and his store has a splendid reputation in this city, being considered one of the very best and most reliable. Mr. Thraikill devotes his exclusive personal attention to his business in which he takes a keen interest. He himself works in the store and he employs three assistants and extra clerks for the Saturday trade, which is always exceedingly heavy. February 6, 1901, John M. Thraikill and Florence E. Coleman were united in marriage. To them were born two children, both daughters: Marium Elizabeth, who was born September, 1904; and Beatrice Oleta, who was born January 21, 1910. The mother died January 1, 1914. Mr. Thraikill remarried on March 16, 1916. Mr. and Mrs. Thraikill reside in Warrensburg at 117 Broad street. By his first marriage in Lamar, Missouri, Mr. Thraikill has a son, George W., who was born August 24, 1895 in Lamar. He was educated in the city schools of Warrensburg. September 1, 1916 he enlisted in Company D, 2nd Missouri Infantry and served on the Mexican border under the command of General Funston. George W. Thraikill will join his company at Westplains, Missouri for service in the present world war, probably going to France. Young Thraikill is one of Warrensburg's most popular and esteemed young men. In the Commercial Club in Warrensburg, John M. Thraikill has been an active worker. For three years he was president of the organization. Mr. Thraikill was chiefly instrumental in having the work of paving done on Market street, which was the nucleus of the splendid system of paved streets, for which this city is widely known throughout the state. He has always been active in church work and for many years prior to coming to Warrensburg was a member of the Baptist church, of which he has been deacon for the past sixteen years. Mr. Thraikill is affiliated with the Warrensburg chapter and commandery of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons and also with the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Warrensburg. Politically, he is a Democrat. Mr. Thraikill has countless friends in Johnson county. Possessing a pleasing personality, kindly manners, and an established reputation for strictly honorable dealings, he ranks very high among the his business associates.

Notes for WILLIAM WESLEY YEAGER

!Data from "The Yeager Family Circle"--William W. Yeager moved with his parents to Newton col., MS in 1854 (Note: Newton county is the one immediately west of Lauderdale co.), joined spring Hill church at age 15, licensed to preach in 1875, ordainen a Deacon in the Methodist Conference in 1889 and was wiwth the Methodist Circuit in 1887 and 1888. He "joined the Confederate cause by enlisting on august 24, 1861, at enterprise, Mississippi. He was a Private, but advanced to Sergeant in company G, 8th Regiment, Miss. Infantry"--died at his home in sunflower Co.

!10 Apr 1995 letter from M. Kathryn (Yeager)Sweetland, RR1, box 2220, Union ME 14862, ggd of William wesley and Laura Edwards Yeager, reads as follows: "My great grandfather was William Wesley Yeager his wife Laura Jane Edwards...Welliam served in M ississippi vol. company E then the company was changed to Co. 8. He is on Lowdenes County during the 1860 census and as being born Ala. He married in Attala county in the summer of 1865. He may have worked as a tanner with his father near French Camp or Mcoo Mississippi. In 188? he was ordained as a deacon in hte

Methodist Episcopal church. He and his wife are buried outside Inverness, Miss...I believe that Balrus was William Wesley's father or relative because he named his first son James Balrus Yeager. (According to other sources, William Wesley was the son of Berry Baylis Yeager.) His other children were William J. Yeager who married Huldah Hampton and they lived in Wiggins, Miss. Pinkney Lee and a youngest son my grandfather Wesley Marvin. they had three daughters Lucy, Effie, Laura Ethelbert. All the girls settled in Sunflower Co. as did Lee Yeager (Pinkney Lee>) Marvin (as he called himself) lived for awhile in Long beach where my father and his sister were born. In the late 1930's they moved to the Delta of Mississippi, outside of Inverness. Family folk lore tells of 7 brothers who came from Germany. No one had any idea when they came or where...

Notes for AMASA ADELBERT PACKARD:

Fred,

You have listed on your "Ancestry Tree", Amasa Packard - showing him married to Effie Shirley and to Zera Shirley. In the eyes of the law he was not married to Zera. This was a "sealed marriage" after her death through the Mormon church- which is not a recognized true marriage. I suggest you either make that statement or delete her from your tree.

She married GEORGE ELI TAYLOR 1907, son of JACOB TAYLOR and MARTHA WAGGONER. He was born December 31, 1879 in NEW IBERIA, LA, and died 1964 in HOUSTON, TEXAS.

Notes for GEORGE ELI TAYLOR:

Pappy, the youngest of 4 children, was born on December 31, 1879 in New Iberia, LA. He was orphaned as a baby and lived in an orphanage until he was taken in by a farming family to work. He said he did not grow up but rather was "yanked up". He had 3 years of formal schooling. He was known to say, " I went to school for 3 days. The first day I was sick, the second I played hookey and the third day I got expelled." However, he was a smart, self educated man.

When my dad, the second of four children, was born in 1912, Pappy was working for Southern Pacific Railroad as a boiler fireman on freight trains. Later, he was a signal maintainer. In 1918 the railroad went out on strike and his brother Jim helped him get a job in Beaumont in the Spindletop Oil field as a roughneck.

In about 1924 he went to work for Magnolia Petroleum Company shoveling coal into a boiler, 30 days a month, 8 hours a day with a shift work schedule. The only benefit was that after 10 years he would get 1 week off with no pay. He worked for them 16 years and was fired when the company overheard him talking about unions. He was then elected by OWUA (Oil Workers Union of America) as an union organizer. Before he died he realized that the Union's power had swung too far, but at the time it had been very needed.

Pappy kept a garden. He had a Jersey cow that gave 5 gallons of milk a day. He and Nana washed clothes together in the back yard in a big black tub with a fire under it, using rub boards. He was a hard worker.

In the early 1940's he worked for 6 months in Hansford, Washington at the first atomic plant. It was very secretive.

He got homesick. His dream was to farm. Pappy's oldest son, Ted, bought 50 acres out of Crosby, Texas. Pappy farmed for two years. Everything went sour. He worked his heart out. He would plow with a pair of mules from daylight to dark. It broke his heart when he had to sell.

They moved to Houston and lived in a two story house near the Dental School. They boarded students. In 1940, when Pappy was in his 60's he went to work as a steel worker, walking the beams- up high. He made good money.

Ted had bought several lots - one for his parents, himself and his siblings if they wanted one. His sister Georgia bought one. (Nana's dream was to have her children circled around her.) Pappy, Ted and Georgia built houses on Braniff Street. Pappy raised and sold pigeons. He had a garden and a cow. When I was small we would ride the trolley car from our apartment to Telephone Road and they would pick us up. Years later, I learned how to drive on the subdivisions homeless streets.

Pappy was a tall, wiry, handsome man. He chained smoked. He liked a little drink of bourbon daily, but never abused it. He had a favorite terrier dog, named "Fella". Pappy died at the age of 85. Dad scattered his ashes over Clear Lake. He said it is the hardest thing he's ever had to do.
